Preschool is the perfect time to introduce children to the concept of giving. By reading them stories about giving, sharing, and helping others, we can help them develop empathy, kindness, and a sense of community. Here are a few children's books that are perfect for teaching preschoolers about the joy of giving:

1. The Giving Tree by Shel Silverstein

This classic children's book tells the story of a tree who loves a boy and gives him everything she has, even herself. The boy grows up and forgets about the tree, but she never stops loving him. This book is a beautiful reminder that giving is not about getting anything in return, but about making someone else happy.

2. The Mitten by Jan Brett

This heartwarming story follows a group of animals who find a lost mitten and take turns climbing inside to stay warm. The animals learn the importance of sharing and helping others, even when it means sacrificing their own comfort.

3. How the Grinch Stole Christmas! by Dr. Seuss

This beloved holiday classic tells the story of the Grinch, a grumpy creature who tries to steal Christmas from the Whos. But in the end, the Whos' kindness and generosity melt the Grinch's heart and teach him the true meaning of Christmas.

4. The Polar Express by Chris Van Allsburg

This magical Christmas story follows a young boy who takes a train ride to the North Pole to meet Santa Claus. Along the way, he learns about the importance of believing in yourself and the power of kindness.

5. The First Christmas Night by Marcus Pfister

This gentle and reverent book tells the story of the first Christmas night from the perspective of the animals who were there. With beautiful illustrations and simple text, this book is a perfect way to introduce young children to the Christmas story.

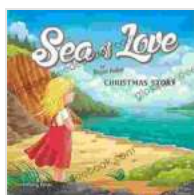

These are just a few of the many children's books that can help you teach preschoolers about the joy of giving. By reading these stories with your children, you can help them develop empathy, kindness, and a sense of community that will last a lifetime.

In addition to reading books, there are many other ways to teach preschoolers about the joy of giving. Here are a few ideas:

- Have your child help you pack a shoebox for a child in need.
- Encourage your child to donate gently used toys and clothes to a local charity.
- Volunteer together at a soup kitchen or homeless shelter.
- Make holiday cards for elderly neighbors or hospitalized children.
- Bake cookies or other treats to share with family and friends.

By giving preschoolers opportunities to give and help others, we can help them learn the true meaning of Christmas and develop a lifelong love of giving.
