Schnoodles are low-maintenance dogs that require regular brushing to prevent mats and tangles. They shed minimally, making them a great choice for allergy sufferers. Bathe your Schnoodle every 2-3 weeks and trim their nails every 4-6 weeks.

Behavior

Known for their intelligence and trainability, Schnoodles are eager to please and excel in obedience classes. They are typically friendly and outgoing, making them great companions for families with children. However, early socialization is crucial to prevent shyness or aggression.

Diet

Schnoodles are prone to weight gain, so feeding them a nutritious diet is essential. A high-quality kibble specifically formulated for small breeds is recommended. Avoid feeding table scraps or giving them too many treats.

Interaction

Schnoodles thrive on human interaction. They are affectionate and playful and enjoy spending time with their owners. They make great cuddle buddies and are always ready for a game of fetch or tug-of-war.

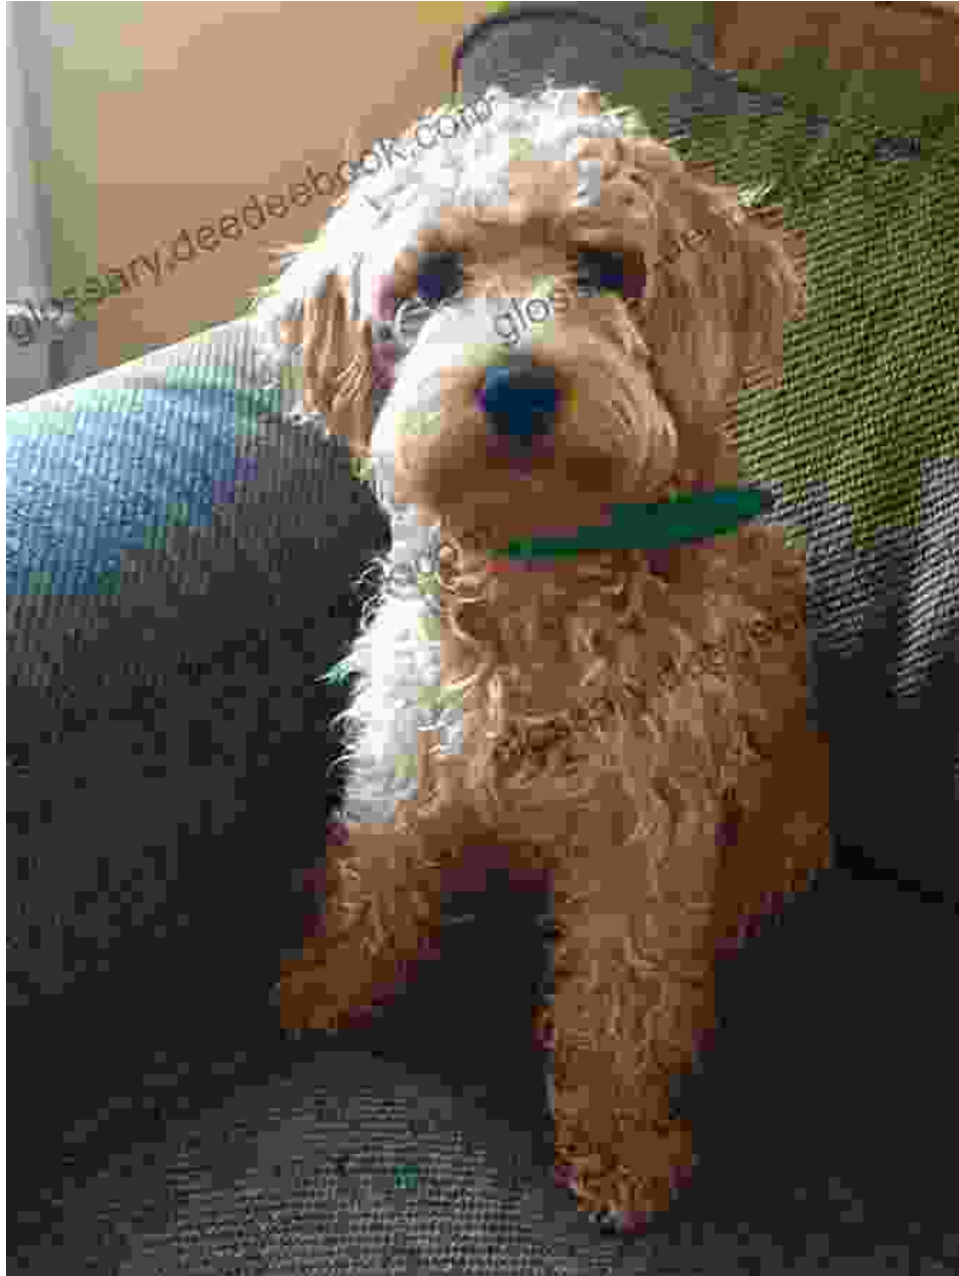

Costs

The initial cost of a Schnoodle puppy ranges from $500 to $1,500. Ongoing expenses include:

- Food: $30-$50 per month
- Grooming: $40-$60 per session
- Vet care: $50-$100 per visit

- Pet insurance: $30-$50 per month

Health Care

Schnoodles are generally healthy dogs with an average lifespan of 12-15 years. Some common health issues to watch out for include:

- Hip dysplasia

- Eye problems (cataracts, glaucoma)
- Allergies
- Dental disease

The Schnoodle is an affectionate, intelligent, and low-maintenance dog that makes a wonderful companion for families of all ages. With proper care and attention, your Schnoodle will bring years of joy and unconditional love into your life.
